

ADULT M/F

#10806-3B-8.

X153

[3B] ER - DAY

(ELIZABETH, LUCKY)

LUCKY ENTERS TO ELIZABETH. IT'S
THE MORNING AFTER THEIR FIRST NIGHT IN THE APARTMENT TOGETHER.

ELIZABETH

What are you doing here?

LUCKY

I'm supposed to be interviewing an accident
victim downstairs but I took a detour to check in
with my new roommate.

ELIZABETH

You're not re-thinking the whole arrangement?

LUCKY

Are you kidding?

ELIZABETH

You got a crash course in life with a toddler last night. Usually Cameron's
a sound sleeper but I think the new surroundings
combined with some of the street noise just -
[really unsettled him]

LUCKY

(OVER) Would you stop
apologizing? I loved
every minute of it.

ELIZABETH

You are such a liar.
Sweet. Gallant.
Incredibly supportive but
- a liar.

LUCKY

You want to know what I was thinking? Lying on that sofa bed listening to you sing lullabies to Cameron? That I was the happiest I'd been - maybe
ever.

ELIZABETH

That's how I felt this morning, waking up beside
you in our place. (EDITS)
Our home. It's all so
new, but at the same time
it feels almost familiar.
Like we didn't realize it
but we've been heading to this all along. (TRIES TO 7.

X155

EXPLAIN) There was this moment in the kitchen this morning. Cameron had just smeared jam all over my shirt and my hair was pulled up in a ball on top of my head and I looked over and you were watching me.

LUCKY

You were more beautiful than I'd ever seen you.

ELIZABETH

With anyone else I would have felt embarrassed or self conscious. But with you I'm comfortable. I can be myself and know you love me anyway, and that's how I love you, Lucky.

LUCKY

(TEASES) We'll see if you still feel that way when you catch me drinking milk from the carton.

8.
X156

ELIZABETH

Moving in together is always an adjustment.

(BEAT) I want to thank
you for making it happen.
For asking - and then
asking (TO MOVE IN) again
when I turned you down the first time. (BEAT) We could have kept going
along, silently wishing things were different -
but afraid to push and
mess up our relationship.
But you did push. You took that chance, and made it possible for me to take it, too. So thank you for getting us here. I never realized I could be blissfully happy on four hours sleep - but I am.

LUCKY

That makes two of us.

THEY KISS, AND ON THEM.